Introduction

Have you ever wondered if you were a sharp enough marksman to win one of those big stuffed animals at the State Fair? All that fun and excitement is yours with the TRS-80 Color Computer Shooting Gallery! You can have endless fun taking aim at ducks, bunnies, and other moving targets as they travel across your screen. With a little practice, you can move up the ranks to the advanced levels and become a "crack shot."

To play this great arcade game, you'll need a TRS-80 16K Color Computer. Joysticks are optional, but they make it easier for you to aim and fire.

The bull's eye - When you hit a bull's eye, the direction in which each row of targets travels changes to the exact opposite.

The diamond - Hitting a diamond gives you four extra bullets. This can come in handy in advanced rounds.

Each time a target is hit, you'll see your score increase at the bottom of the screen. Beneath your score is the high score so far. Claiming the high score can bring glory and honor to you, so do your best!

Getting Past the First Round

If you run out of bullets before you destroy all the targets, the game is over. However, if you manage to shoot all the targets, you get a chance for easy extra points. A bear will run across the screen. Your job is to hit the bear as many times as you can. Each time you hit it, you receive 100 points, and the bear will change directions and run faster. Once it manages to run off the screen, the round is over and the next round begins.

You also get an added bonus at the end of each round for any unused bullets (30 points per bullet). This should give you an incentive to aim carefully and waste as few bullets as possible. You can occasionally hit two targets with one bullet, if you're fast enough - but don't depend on this method to pull you through a tight spot!

When you start Round 2, you will be given two less bullets. Each time a new round is started, two less bullets will be available, down to 26 bullets (in Round 13). From that point on, you'll have 26 bullets for each round.

Advanced Levels

The significance of hitting the diamonds becomes obvious when you advance to higher levels. By the time you reach Round 5, you will be given less ammunition than it takes to destroy all the targets (43 of them!). Try to hit the diamonds and collect those extra bullets early in each round, so you'll have a better chance at getting to the next round.

Beginning in Round 10, other surprising things happen, so watch for them. By the time you get this far, you should be an expert marksman!

The Targets

There are several rows of moving targets. Each row has a different point value. The values are:

Owls - 10 points

Ducks - 20 points

Bunnies - 30 points

Smiling Faces - 40 points

Frowning Faces - 0 points

Bull's Eyes - 50 points

Diamonds - 60 points

As you shoot, you'll notice that there are a few special features for destroying different targets. The targets with special features are:

The frowning face - If you hit the frowning face, you earn no points, and an extra bunny appears! Be careful to avoid the faces when they frown, and aim fast when they smile.
